IWSM2004
14th International Workshop on Software Measurement

MetriKon2004
DASMA Metrik Kongress

November 3-5, 2004, Berlin, Königs Wusterhausen

THEME & SCOPE:

Software measurement and metrics are some of the key technologies to control or to manage the software development process. Measurement is an important foundation of any engineering-activity and to increase the scientific and technical knowledge. Therefore it is essential for both the practice of software development and empirical research of software-technology. This congress is an ideal platform for the necessary exchange of experience between theory und practice.

TOPICS OF INTEREST:

We encourage submissions in any field of software measurement, including, but not limited to

- Software metrics foundations
- Practical measurement application
- Measurement processes and resources
- Empirical case studies
- Measurement acceptance
- Functional size measurement
- Software estimation
- Software process improvement
- Measurement data bases
- Metrics validation
- Web metrics
- Measurement services
- Measurement tool support and infrastructures
- Measurement experience and guidance
- Theory of measurement
- Measurement paradigms
- Enterprise embedded solutions

SUBMISSIONS:

Authors should send proposed short papers (2 to 4 pages) by e-mail by June 14st, 2004 to

Alain Abran	Günter Büren	Reiner Dumke
ETS, Montreal, Kanada	Büren & Partner, Nuremberg	University of Magdeburg, Germany
aabran@ele.etsmtl.ca	gb@bup-nbg.de	dumke@ivs.cs.uni-magdeburg.de

Conference languages are English and German. German papers will be presented in a separate track.

CONFERENCE TIMETABLE:

Submission deadline of paper:	June 14, 2004
Notification of acceptance:	August 2, 2004
Final paper deadline:	September 20, 2004
Conference date:	November 3-5, 2004
